WE CARE

Whether you have a large commercial kitchen or a small tea room, it's worth conserving water. It will save you money and help save water! Using water efficient appliances and fixtures from ALUIDS. can make a big difference to the amount of water and money one uses in the kitchen area.

Most of our products pre-rinse units, spray valves, flexible hoses, riser tubes, swing nozzles, pantry faucets are promised to be free of lead content.

All our products represented by  are completely lead free.

✓ What is the acceptable lead content?

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) of the United States federal government is the body that defines the standard – called the maximum contaminant level goals (MCLG) in accordance with the Safe Drinking Water Act. Lead in water is regulated under both Clean Water Act and Safe Drinking Water Act.

The accepted level of lead in drinking water is 0. Yes, zero tolerance. This is because lead is a toxic metal that can be harmful to human health even at low exposure levels.

Bathing and showering in water with low lead content doesn't cause harm since our skin doesn't absorb lead from the water.

💧 How does lead get into water?

Lead can enter water when plumbing material such as pipes and fixtures containing lead are corroded, especially where the water has high acidity or low mineral content.

The solution

In order to combat this menace, there have been rapid developments to make products that come in contact with water, lead-free.

We at Aluids adhere to highest quality and safety standards and accordingly have made most of our products free of any lead exposure. Products indicated by this image are our lead-free products and components – which includes replacement parts.
